CAPT. MATTHEWS, commanding the Powhatan, reports his arrival at Santa Anna, Curacao, on the RUMORS ARE FLYING about the Capitol to-day tnat ex-Secretary Blaine is to be appointed minister to England. These arise, no doubt, from the fact that Mr. Blaine yesterday told a committee which called upon him to invite him to deliver an oration at New Albany, Ind., on Decoration day, that he was compelled to decline because he thought by that time he would be in Europe. One of the committee who waited upon Mr. Blaine is authority for the statement, and so told a representaive of THE STAR. It is understood, however, that Mr. Blaine's trip to Europe is for health and recreation, and has nothing to do with the english mission or any other government appoint WHY HE WAS DISMISSED.-Reports as to the cause for the dismissal last week of Mr. F. W. Moffat, for some years paying teller in the cash room of the Treasury, are very numerous. Treasury officials, who are in a position to know all the details of the matter, decline to say a word upon he subject, further than that he did not resign, but was dismissed. The report, which was generally credited, was that his dismissal was caused by non-payment of his debts, as several discharges have been made recently in the Treasury department for that cause. Another report is that Mr. Moffat helped himself to about $2,000 of government funds, but that the defalcation was discovered and the amount recovered within forty-eight hours. As stated above no definite information can be obtained. Mr. Moffat himself has declined also to say anything about his THE NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES held its last session to-day. Prof. Ira Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, was elected to membership. This is the only member elected this year, although there were a large number of applications. After the reading of the papers, a business session was held, and then the academy finally adjourned. The following papers were read to-day: "On the formation of metalliferous vein-formation at Sulphur Bank, California," Joseph Leconte. "On a form of standard barometer," A. W. Wright; "On a marsupial genus from the Eocene," E. D. Cope; "On a fallacy in induction," C. S. Pierce; "On the infra-red portion of the solar spectrum as studied with the bolometer,"

The statuettes were of bronze, copies of the statue of Gen. Scott standing in the Home grounds, and cost $200 each. Only one is retained in the commissioners' meeting room, and what has become of the other three her room, and what has become of the other three has yet to be exactly ascertained. It is further stated that a marble bust of Gen. Barnes, set up in the hospital of the Home, cost $800.

THE SCIENTISTS AND THE LATE DR. DARWIN .-Will the academy take any action on the death of Charles Darwin," asked a STAR reporter of President Rogers, before the session of the National Academy of Sciences began for the day. "I don't know what will be done," was the answer. "Nothing has been prepared as yet. Of course all the members of the academy feel regret at the death of such a distinguished scientist."

SAD DETAILS OF GEN. HURLBUT'S DEATH.

Minister Hurlbut's Sudden Death. AN ACUTE ATTACK OF HEART DISEASE WHICH TERMI-PANAMA, April 12.—The last steamer from the south coast brought the sad news of the sudden death on the morning of March 27th, of Gen. Stephen A. Hurlbut, United States minister resident in Peru. The Lima correspondent of the States

Stephen A. Huribut, United States minister resident in Peru. The Lima correspondent of the Star and Herald describes at some length the distressing incidents which surrounded the sad event. He says: Up to the morning of his death the deceased gentleman had been in the enjoyment of the best of health; had been visiting his friends and taking leave of them prior to his departure for the United States, which was fixed for the 6th proximo, and nothing prognosticated his sudden demise. He awoke and dressed as usual early on the 27th, played for some little time with his two grand-children, of whom he was excessively fond, and then while washing his face was suddenly seized with such intense pain in the region of the heart as compelled him to give vent to loud and agonizing cries, which aroused every one in the house. He was soon attended by Mrs. Huribut, his son, Mr. George Huribut, and wife, and the servants, but for some minutes remained in strong agony an i totally deprived of all power of articulation. A doctor was almost instantly called in, but no applications were at hand to render assistance, even if such could have been of service against the acute attack from which the general was suffering. He was raised from the floor and placed upon a bed. attack from which the general was suffering. He was raised from the floor and placed upon a bed when he momentarily recovered consciousness, his first exclamation being "God bless you all! I am dying! Oh my heart!" A few more disjointed phrases were all he uttered. A sharp Monday was agreed to.

Mr. Sewell introduced a bill for the erection of a building for post office, custom house, internal revenue and other government offices in Camden, N.J., the cost not to exceed $75,000. Referred.

The Senate bill for the manufacture of salt in the Indian Territory came up on the calendar.

Mr. Conger said he regarded the measure as a mere instrumentality for wresting from the Indians a portion of their lands for the benefit of the whites.

Jointed phrases were all he uttered. A sharp convulsive shock ran through his body, and in less than 20 minutes from the first attack he had ceased to exist. Directly the calamity became known General Lynch dispatched an aide to offer surgical or other assistance which might be required, and the legation was thronged by a multitude of persons of all nationalties expressing their condolences. The members of the legation was thronged by a multitude of persons of all nationalties expressing their condolences. The members of the benefit of the Rodgers' crew: "Lieutenant M. On learning that General Huribut had ceased to exist General Lynch at once offered, in the name of the General Lynch at once offered, in the name of the government of Chili, to take charge of the remains and give them a public funeral, conducted with the ceremony and honor due to the high official position and military rank of the deceased. This offer, however, was declined by Mrs. Hurlbut, who for years past has evinced a marked dislike for military display and who determined that a simple Episcopal service at the legation and a temporary lodgment in the Meiggs' vault at Villegas, kindly placed at her disposal by Mr. Henry Meiggs, was all the ceremony necessary pending the transfer of the remains to the United States.

However, to satisfy the yord having the control of it, as it adjoins their most skeptical, and remove all ground of suspicion as to poison, it was also thought best to have an examination of the contents of the stomach, which was made by Dr. Raimondi, of Lima. Drs. Schofield and Baldwin then concluded upon a like precaution, and have transmitted a sealed jar containing more or less of the con-

The legation was taken charge of by Gen. Moore U.S. consul at Callao. The funeral was imposing and the greatest regret and respect shown by the people both of Lima and Callao, who assumed almost universally the habiliments of mourning. In the funeral cortege were officials of all nationalities, including Admiral Lynch, the Chilian commander. Those Peruvians who belong to the Calderon party were most impressed by the loss of our minister. The casket containing the body was corveyed to Villegas and placed in a vault there until its removal on the 6th of May for the United States by way of Panama. Eulogies were delivered at the vault by distinguished Peruvian

New York, April 21 — William Sindram, the murderer of Mrs. Crave, was executed this morning at the city prison at 8.36. He remained firm to the last. Sindram passed the early part of the night in playing cards with the boy burglar and murderer McGloin. After this he went to bed and appeared to sleep soundly until after 6 o'clock. He ate a hearty breakfast, and manifested no emotion over his approaching fate. At 15 minutes after 8 o'clock he was led out to execution. While the sheriff was reading the death warrant, the executioner pinioned the arms of the condemned, and placed the fatal noose about his neck. Sindram did not flinch. FRARS FOR MELVILLE'S SAPETY. The latest news from Verkhoyansk is that they are anxious there about the Ispravnik who went with Melville and who they think ought to have returned in February (old style). He has not yet returned. Terrible hurricanes, with snow, have prevailed of late in the Verkhoyansk district, and they are afraid the Ispravnik has perished, and eventually the whole party. As the Ispravnik had orders to accompany Melville until such time as the latter might choose to send him back, I believe there is no reason for anxiety."

Senate To-day. SUPPORT OF COMMON SCHOOLS. Mr. Blair, from the committee on education and labor, reported back to the Senate to-day the bill to aid in the establishment and temporary support of common schools. The committee make no port of common schools. The committee make no recommendation as to the superintendence of expenditure and other details of the bill, but their report states that a majority of the committee favor recommending an appropriation from the Treasury to aid in the support of common schools, the same to be distributed to the several states and territories for a limited period of time, and upon the basis of illiteracy. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Butler, from the committee on territories reported adversely the bill establishing courts of justice and record in the Territory of Alaska. Indefinitely postponed. Also, from the same committee, a substitute for the bill for the organization of the district of southeastern Alaska, and providing a civil government therefor. Placed on

Mr. Beck offered a resolution directing an in quiry and report by the census committee as to the number and character of subjects being prepared for publication by the census bureau with their cost, etc. He quoted the statement of Mr. Dawes on the previous day, pending the printing deficiency bill, that the cost of printing the census reports in the current year was estimated at $2,700,000. If this was the first estimate he, (Senator Beck) feared the actual expenses would run up to double those figures, and he wanted some re-striction imposed upon extravagant and unneces-sary publications which often found their way directly into the shops of second-hand dealers.

Mr. Sherman coincided in the view just expressed and the resolution was adopted.

INDIAN TERRITORY BILL The Senate committee on territories to-day decided to report Mr. Vest's "Indian Territory bill," with amendments striking out the sections relative to Indian naturalization, and also omitting the clauses which prescribe United States citizenship as an indispensable qualification for service on juries in the proposed United States court. The bill, as amended, will previde simply for the establishment of a United States court at Muscogee, with criminal jurisdiction, (as contemplated by the existing treaties with the Indians), and will stipulate that every jury in the case of an Indian stipulate that every jury in the case of an Indian or a negro accused of a crime shall be in part composed of persons of the same race as the party

A LITTLE BREEZE IN THE SENATE. There was a scene of a personal nature in the senate this afternoon. Mr. Hoar undertook to make an explanation while Mr. Platt was speaking, and the President (Mr. Davis) interrupted him with "the Senator from Massachusetts is out of order." Mr. Hoar quickly retorted: "Mr. President, I don't think it is the function of the chair to dent, I don't think it is the function of the chair to interpose when the Senator who has the floor does not object to the interruption." Mr. Davis maintained that it was his function to keep order and treat all Senators alike. 'After a few words as to the power of the chair to call a Senator to order, Mr. Hoar said he did not intend any disrespect to the chair, and the usual decorum of the Senate was THE ELECTION CONTEST OF MACKEY VS.
